Who are Rural Chaplains?

A Rural Chaplain is a person called by God whose gifts and graces are uniquely suited for ministry with town and rural communities. A Rural Chaplain serves:

- as an advocate for the provision of human services that respond to the needs of persons in the midst of change and for social and economic systems which are just, participatory and sustainable in town and rural communities and society at all levels
- as an interpreter of town and rural issues and concerns to local, denominational, and ecumenical forms of the church, and to the communities where the Church ministers
- as a caring person who stands with and affirms persons, churches, and communities experiencing hardship or devastation

The Rural Chaplains Association (RCA) assists those women and men who sense a call from God to minister in churches, projects or institutions located in open country, rural communities, isolated areas, villages, and small and large towns. The Association provides opportunity for Rural Chaplains to enhance and refine their skills of ministry and to participate in a network for fellowship, encouragement, and the sharing of resources and ideas.

What is the Process to Become a Rural Chaplain?

A lay or clergy candidate seeking Certification as a Rural Chaplain must attend two Annual Meetings/Focus Events, meet two Review Committees, and be approved by the Core Leadership Team before certification as a Rural Chaplain. Also, the following documents must be submitted to the Core Leadership Team of the Rural Chaplains Association before meeting the first Review Committee:

- (1) A Petition for Certification.
- (2) An Autobiographical Sketch focusing on expertise, experience and skills with town and country ministry.
- (3) A Statement of Ministry, indicating how the candidate expects to serve in the roles of a Rural Chaplain, including the identification of three rural issues/concerns and how these will be addressed.
- (4) Two Letters of Recommendation -- one from a Judicatory Leader (district superintendent, bishop, association/presbyter leader, etc.) and one from an officer of your local congregation or work place leader (pastor, chairperson of administrative/church council, staff-parish relations committee, or another person who knows of the candidate's work, such as a supervisor or department head).
